"PINK DOMINOES."

A Fine Performance Promised for This Evening.

An appreciative audience filled the Opera House last night to witness the production of that old favorite comedy "Pink Dominoes," by the Isabel Morris Company. The piece was well rendered and provoked uproarious applause.

As Lady Maggie Miss Morris was quite charming, and seemed fully imbued with the spirit of fun. Mr. Chas. J. Edmonds played the part of Charles Greythorn, the model husband and man of business in the eyes of his confiding wife, but really a rather gay fellow on the sly. His acting was quite up to his usual high standard of excellence. The Joekin Tubbs of the piece was John Jack, who, as he always is, superb. Mr. Temple as Sir Percy Wagstaff was very good, and in the second act sang delightfully. The balance of the Company ably sustained their parts.

To-night "East Lynne" will be given.

The Two Dakotas and Washington Republican.

Massachusetts Democratic Convention—Bitter Arraignment of Harrison's Policy.

Yesterday's Elections.

By Associated Press.]

FARGO, N. D., Oct. 2.—The total vote is not as heavy as expected, probably about 37,000. Many people have moved away from Ramsey, Eddy and Nelson counties owing to the failure of crops. The Legislature is strongly Republican. The Democrats elect 11 Senators and the Republicans get 21, with the Twenty-third district in doubt. The Republicans also get 36 members to the Assembly and the Democrats 19, and there are five districts in doubt. Hansbrough, Republican, is elected to Congress by about 12,000 majority. The contest over the Judgeships are extremely close. The Prohibitionists claim to have carried the Territory. Fargo, Bismark and Grand Forks vote strongly pro-liquor, and unprejudiced calculators believe the Prohibitionists are beaten by at least 6,000. The constitution is endorsed by a rousing majority. At the Republican headquarters the entire State ticket is claimed by from 10,000 to 12,000, while at the Democratic headquarters the Chairman asserts from reports now at hand, official and otherwise, that the Republicans carry the State by not to exceed 5,000. Maratta, Democrat, for Congress, is claimed by the Democrats to have been elected, but definite figures have not been received. Republicans claim the election of Hansbrough to Congress.

A Seattle, Washington, special says: The returns from all over the State indicate it is surely Republican by about the same majority as last year, when Allen carried the State for delegate to Congress by 7,000 majority. The Legislature is certainly Republican, probably by twenty. The result in King and Kittitas counties is yet in doubt; if they go Republican the majority for the party in the Legislature will be 35. The Republicans gained in every county except these two. The Democrats are claiming to have carried King, having made heavy gains in Seattle, but the Republicans are confident their ticket will pull through all right.

The count in Pierce and King counties, two of the most populous counties, will not be determined until late to-day. A technical error in the form of the Republican tickets in both of these counties raised quite a question of legality, and the Democrats are making objections. The error consisted in leaving off a line, "against the constitution," which is a special feature directed by the constitution.

South Dakota's first election descended to a degrading scramble for its Capital location. There was no fight on anything else. Mellette was elected Governor by 20,000 majority. Pickler and Gifford go to Congress. The Republican majority in the Legislature will be at least sixty, thus insuring the election of two Republican U. S. Senators. The vote is enormous; will probably be 80,000. For the capital, Pierre, Huron, Watertown, Chamberlain, Sioux Falls and Mitchell entered. The reports received up to this morning indicate a vote for Pierre of 26,000, Huron 21,000, Sioux Falls 11,000, Watertown 10,000, Mitchell 7,000 and Chamberlain, 6,000. Huron still claims to have secured the Capitol, as also does Sioux Falls. The fate of Pierre hangs on a balance. On a square fight it would probably have been carried, but the votes on this question were recklessly traded on the Capitol location.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 2.—The Herald (Republican) reports that the Democratic estimated majority as being cut down as the count proceeds. It is now reasonably certain that the entire Republican state ticket is elected. The constitution is adopted by a large majority.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 2.—The Evening Wisconsin received the following at noon: "Helena, Mont.—Thomas H. Carter, Republican, is elected to Congress, and the Republicans have both branches of the Legislature. Signed, Seligman, Chairman Republican Central Committee."

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 2.—The Republicans claim the election of the Republican Congressmen, the State ticket and a majority in the Legislature. The State Republican Committee claims Congressmen and the State ticket by from 1,500 to 2,000 majority and from 40 to 45 out of 75 members of the Legislature. The Democratic Committee also claims the State.

ASBURN, S. D., Oct. 2.—The Republican State Central Committee estimates this morning that the Republican State ticket is elected by 20,000 majority; that prohibition carries by from 10,000 to 15,000 majority; that Pierre has 25,000 votes for the temporary capital, with Huron a good second. Pierre will undoubtedly be the temporary capital.

HELENA, Montana, Oct. 2.—The Democrats have conceded the election of Carter (Rep.) to Congress, and the entire Republican ticket. The Legislature is also thought to be Republican without doubt.

A Democratic Convention Denounces Election Frauds!!!

By Associated Press.]

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 2.—The platform to be adopted by the Democratic State Convention is already agreed upon. It endorses the ever-living principles of Democracy and the platform of the last Democratic National Convention; avows a continued and hearty support of tariff reform, whose ultimate triumph is predicted; demands free raw material, lower duties on the necessities, and continues: We believe in free wool, as provided for in the bill passed by the Democratic majority of the last House of Representatives, essential to the prosperity of the woolen industry upon which that of the woolgrower is dependent, while it will afford relief to all consumers of woolen goods. Declares for free coal and iron, ore and lower duties on pig iron, as the only salvation for the iron industry of New England; demands that all materials for shipbuilding be made free of duty for the benefit of shipbuilders; favors a continuance of Whitney's naval policy; favors a partial or entire reciprocity trade between the United States and Canada, close commercial relations with Mexico, and condemns the arbitrary action of the Treasury Department in respect to the importation of Mexican ore, which has already led to retaliatory measures disastrous to important American interests in Mexico. Denounces election frauds and opposes schemes for National election law.

We condemn the present administration for its narrow partisanship, low standard of public duty, standing in conspicuous contrast to the character of the recent Democratic administration under President Cleveland; condemn it for its surrender to the dictation of unscrupulous political bosses, such as Mahone, Quay and Platt; for its utter betrayal of causes of civil service reform; for its perversion of the pension machinery; for distributing the national bounty as a means of influencing votes; for its sale of high political offices; for large contributions of money by which it was placed in power, and for its shameful despotism, clearly indicative of a conception that a public office is not a public trust, but a private perquisite; pension legislation for the benefit of invalid soldiers and sailors who fought for their country should be just and liberal; it should be administered in a spirit of fairness and equity, and in accordance with the laws of Congress, but not in the interest of greedy claim agents, nor with the object of emptying the treasury. We condemn the rulings by which this administration, in a reversal of former decisions, has thrown open the pension list to persons dishonorably discharged, as an outrage upon common sense, a degradation of what should be a roll of honor, and an insult to every true soldier.

AT THE TRACK.

Another Grand Day at the Grounds.

PROF. PRICE'S BALLOON ASCENSION

Interesting Racing Between the Pacers and Trotters—The Ladies' Tournament.

The day was all that one could wish for and the attendance very large; fully 3,000 people were on the grounds and the grand stand was a blaze of bright colors and pretty faces. The train from Carson came down with four crowded cars from the Comstock and Carson. The tournament took place according to program at 11 o'clock, the following ladies taking part in the exercises: Miss Kemler of Paradise Valley, Miss McIntosh of Reno, Miss Allen of Churchill, Miss Elliot of Reno and Miss Nettie and Miss Nellie Winters. They were all well mounted and showed much skill in the handling of their horses. They will ride again Friday, when the committee will render its decision. The judges are James Mayberry, T. T. Harris, G. W. Watt, Jos. Marzon and J. A. Blossom.

The ladies concluded to give the visitors something new in the way of riding and treated the crowd to a mile dash, Miss Nettie Winters coming in a neck ahead. It was an exciting contest.

Prof. Price made a successful balloon ascension and jumped from his air ship at a height of about 500 feet. He shot through space with lightning rapidity for about 300 feet when his parachute opened and his downward flight was very much lessened.

THE RACES.

The first race on the programme was a pacing race, best three in five, between Sam Lewis, Prince and Frenchy. They got off well together, but Frenchy went off his pins round the first turn, and again on the back stretch so his driver had to pull him down to a slow walk before he could get him down to his work, and the result was he was distanced. Sam Lewis and Prince made a very pretty trot down the stretch, with Prince in the lead and Lewis lapping his wheel, and came in winner in 2:37. The pools sold at $10 for Prince, $5 for Lewis and $3 for Frenchy. After the heat they sold for $10 for Prince, against $5 for Lewis.

The second heat, Prince and Lewis got off well, and the little brown gelding took the lead from the start and maintained his position to the outcome, winning the heat by nearly a distance. Time, 2:39.

The Judges sandwiched in a heat in the 2:35 class trotting between the pacers and started Onida S., Rosa M., Nevada, Diana and Alpha. After much scoring they got off, with Onida S. in the lead, a position maintained to the outcome, Nevada second, Rosa third, Alpha fourth and Diana fifth. Time, 2:38. The pacers were then called up for a final heat, which Prince won easily, being given the heat and race. Time, 2:32.

The second heat of the trot was called and they got a good start, but Onida S. soon took the lead and kept her position to the outcome, winning the heat and race. Time, 2:32.

The third heat of the 2:35 trot came up, but not until Rosa M. had been withdrawn on account of lameness. After scoring several times they got off well together, but Onida S. soon forged to the front and kept her position to the outcome, winning the heat and race. Time, 2:35.

The great race between the pacers and Victor came next, and after repeated scoring they got off well together. Edwin C. soon took the lead and maintained his position to the last, with Victor close to his wheel and Little Hope nearly a distance behind. Time, 2:30.

American Inventions.

Simultaneously with the news of Edison's enthusiastic reception at Paris came an assurance, said to be from a member of the committee of awards, that American exhibitors would receive an amount of recognition from the judges far greater, in proportion to the extent of our display, than would be granted to those of any other country. The news is pleasing but not surprising. We feel no hesitation in declaring that the display of American inventions outranks that of any other nation, if it does not surpass the combined displays of the civilized world beside. Our National pre-eminence in this respect is undisputed and undisputable. Long ago it was admitted, sometimes admiringly and sometimes grudgingly, by our chief industrial competitor, England. An extensive list could be made of time and labor saving machines that owe their existence to American ingenuity and that now find their way all over the globe. Doubtless this superiority is most apparent in respect to machinery, but it includes an almost countless number of improvements in methods of manufacture, in the practical details of commerce and travel, in printing, in domestic economy, in ministering to the comfort and convenience of daily life. It will repay some study if we inquire for the ultimate causes of this New-World supremacy. Some of these causes are doubtless hidden, but others are evident to the careful searcher. First, invention is twin brother to discovery, and discovery is the causa sine qua non of our National existence. Just now, as we approach the Columbus quadra-centennial, the fact becomes exceedingly impressive. During all these nearly completed four centuries, this has been a land of discovery. Expeditious by land and sea, carried on for purposes of extending man's knowledge of the New World, have never for one decade been omitted. Consequently, eagerness to discover, hungry curiosity, restless discontent with the unknown have been inbred among the people on this continent during a dozen generations. Coupled with the desire of discovery has been the craving for power over nature. Here nature was always to be subdued. Time was never long enough, hands were never numerous enough. So there was always the pressing need to multiply the power of the hands and to diminish the demands upon time. Most of all, our New World has honored inventors, therefore it has been honored by inventions. A signal instance of this is afforded in the history of electrical art and science. The three greatest names to be enumerated here are Franklin, Morse and Edison, the first Americans to be mentioned next after Washington in our list of immortals. The second was made a university professor, was showered with civic and academic honors, his lap was filled with wealth, and a statue was erected to his memory. The third has gone forth, loaded with fame achieved among us, and is making a triumphal tour of Europe.

It is twenty-six years now since Thackeray said "Adams," at the age of fifty-two; it is nineteen years since Charles Dickens, at sixty-eight, left "The Mystery of Edwin Drood" half told; nine years ago George Eliot joined "the choir invisible;" five years ago Charles Read's long and stout fight against the oppressions, humbugs, and hypocrites came to an end. Now a cable dispatch tells us that Wilkie Collins is dead. He has been in broken health this year or more past, and has been twice reported dying; but on each of these occasions he rallied unexpectedly, and week before last he was busying himself with his uncompleted story and planning fresh literary work—now, alas! never to be performed. Whatever criticisms may be justly urged against his work, however far he may have fallen below Thackeray and Dickens and George Eliot in respect of genius or below Charles Read in respect of moral purpose, at least he had certain native gifts of imagination, a matchless knack at plot-building, a strenuous simplicity in narration, that fully explain his popularity. The novels which represent him at his best have not only gone the round of the English-reading world, but have been translated into all the languages of Continental Europe; and they are his true monument.

HAD the Republican State ticket of Washington been defeated, it would have been a proper rebuke to those political cormorants who obtained and held possession of the party in that Territory. According to the San Francisco Chronicle the Democracy nominated men of ability and integrity for all State positions, while the Republicans put up a lot of unscrupulous political hacks who had recently drifted there from other States and Territories, one of whom was indicted in Arizona after his nomination.

THE Elko Independent says we are pleased to see the papers of the State taking such strong grounds against the libelous pamphlet of that Psalm-singing fanatic, Rev. Van Deventer. This slanderer of innocent children and virtuous woman, who poses as a "Man of God," should be wholly ignored by every man and woman in Nevada who has any claims to respectability.

That Premium Holstein. One of the most interesting features of the stock exhibit is the premium thoroughbred heifer "Cosette," a registered Holstein of the Aggie family, given away as a premium by the Carson Appeal to its subscribers. The animal speaks for itself with anybody who sees it, and is valued at $250. Any family fortunate enough to win it will have enough milk to supply the family, and run a small milk route with the balance. Subscribers are being rapidly taken in Reno, where the cow belongs. People here say that they don't want the Appeal very bad, but they are dead stuck on that cow.

A Rare Opportunity. Martin & Drake, the leading importers in the West of pure blood livestock, will have on the Fair grounds a carload of imported stallions, which they intend to enter to compete for prizes, and which will also be offered for sale, to be delivered to purchasers at the close of the Fair. Terms of sale: One year to eighteen months' time on good bankable paper at 8 per cent. interest per annum. This is a grand lot of stallions and those desiring a No. 1 horse should avail themselves of this opportunity.

MARTIN & DRAKE, Provo City, Utah.
The Best There Is. A new typewriter has been invented by the party who invented that of Remington and all of the Caligraph. It has no ribbon, no wooden bars, but is all steel, prints true and without any blur. It costs an even hundred dollars, and is worth two of any other machine. It prints better, wears longer, is easier to learn and works faster, besides other recommendations. C. A. BRAGG, Agent.

A Brothers' Quarrel. Tim O'Keefe and his brother Don had a personal quarrel last evening which resulted in the former taking a shot at the latter. The cause of the difficulty was not learned.

Breathing the Germs of Disease. To inhale the germs of disease with their daily breath is the fate of denizens of malarious localities everywhere. The endemic atmospheric poison may, however, be repelled by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitter. This pre-eminent safe and effective remedy safely braves its assaults, every physical function is confirmed or restored to regularity, the circulation quickened if sluggish, and a bilious habit, which of itself begets a proneness to both intermittent and remittent types of malarial disease, where extrinsic atmospheric causes exist, powerfully counteracted by this inimitable, fortifying defensive agent, which has, moreover, none of the disagreeable characteristics of a drastic cathartic or an alkali. Fever and ague, dumb ague and rheumatic fever, and the ailments of the stomach, are conquered by it surely, pleasantly. Rheumatism, neuralgia, gout, kidney and bladder troubles, constipation and indigestion yield to it.

It should be generally known that Dr. Henley's Dandelion Tonic insures a hearty appetite and increased digestion, dispels nervous depression and low spirits, overcomes lack of energy and weakness, and will infuse new life and strength into the weakest invalid. Sold by William Fininger.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life. It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a large bottle; it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. W. PINNIGER,

AT THE PAVILION.

What a "Gazette" Reporter
Saw in a Day.

GREAT CROWDS VISIT THE PLACE.

A Fine Exhibit of the State's Products—Mechanical and Agricultural.

A GAZETTE reporter spent a part of the day yesterday and this forenoon at the Pavilion, inspecting Nevada produce and examining the entry clerk's books in an endeavor to give each exhibitor due credit. He found a much larger variety than has ever before been displayed in this State, which proves, if it prove anything, that Nevada is fast coming to the front as a fruit and vegetable-producing State. When we solve the water question and bring our lands and water together, no State in the Union will have any advantage over us in the production of all the cereals, potatoes, fruit and vegetables of all kinds. It will certainly pay any one interested in agriculture or the State's welfare to visit the Pavilion and see for themselves the great variety and choice quality of the many exhibits made. Mrs. B. F. Riley occupies a place just to the right of the main entrance downstairs that gives the visitor a glimpse of what Nevada can do in the way of fruit and vegetables. She has a very fine display of apples in endless variety, melons, plums, dried figs, grapes, honey, can fruits, pickles and jellies that will convince the most skeptical of the productiveness of Nevada soil.

Hon. Wm. Thompson adjoints Mrs. Riley on the west with as fine a collection of pears, peaches, plums and fruits of all kind as can be found in many of the older States.

B. F. Leece makes an exhibit of similar truck that is very creditable indeed.

Mrs. Litch of Reno, now living on the Sellers ranch, makes an exhibit that she can justly feel proud of in the way of fruits.

Joe Frey of the south side also makes a fine display of fruit and vegetables.

Robert Lewers of Franktown brings the south end of the county out as a fruit-growing section of our young State. He also makes a fine display of dairy products.

Wm. Joy of the poor farm shows what industry will do in that section of the valley in the way of fruit-growing when the soil is intelligently cultivated.

Mrs. B. E. Hunter makes an exhibit of house plants that is very creditable, and shows the soil of Nevada is adapted to the cultivation of beautiful flowers as well as the substantial.

Mrs. Marsh also shows what care and intelligence will do in the way of making the house beautiful by growing house plants.

Geo. Holesworth goes into the comforts of life by telling you how to build your houses and cover them with steel, thus making them fire-proof and comfortable.

M. Hawcroft has on exhibition a sample of alfalfa hay that stands six feet tall, besides sugar beets and two varieties of potatoes that cannot be excelled in any county on earth.

Mrs. P. Brown shows what can be done in the way of growing garden truck by exhibiting some of the largest squashes, cucumbers, carrots, beets, turnips and garden seeds this reporter ever saw.

A young son of Billy Waite makes an exhibit that should make the cigarette-smoking dudes about town blush with shame, and at the same time proves that Nevada is equal if not superior to any portion of California as a place to raise garden truck.

Jessie Harris makes a good display of fruit, beans, etc.

Wm. Ames of Sierra Valley makes a good showing with cheese.

Wm. Waite shows several varieties of squash, tomatoes, corn, etc. Among Mr. Waite's exhibit are several heads of cabbage given by J. M. Steinberger of Long Valley that take the cake.

Joe Frey shows a large lot of Tennessee ketchups, pumpkins, corn, beets, squash, radishes, currants, etc., that are exceptionally fine.

Brad Moore makes a fine showing with Nevada honey.

Geo. Alt shows some fine St. Patrick MacKenzie, Early Rose, Snow Flake and several other varieties of potatoes that prove that Washoe county is the place to grow fine spuds. He also shows specimens of cauliflower, apples, onions and cabbage.

A. H. Manning exhibits a sulky plow and a breaking plow and other agricultural implements.

The Boca Brewing Co. makes a fine exhibit of their products.

Miss Nettie Winters exhibits some home-made wine and preserves.

Mrs. Theo Winters of fruits in jars—apples, plums, pears, quinces and other varieties of fruits.

N. P. Jaques' mowing machines and other implements to put the land in shape to grow the above.

George Laughton a model hay derrick for unloading hay.

W. J. Luke makes a fine display of buggies, surry, open and extension top, phaetons, and, in fact, any kind of a vehicle that you can think of. He should take several premiums for his exhibit.

E. L. Stevenson makes quite a pretty display of Cyclone windmills, water fountains, etc.

Last but not by any means least comes the display made by the Nevada Experiment Station, and there is one exhibit which is shown for educational purposes. In this exhibit, arranged in a very attractive manner and in such order as to be of the greatest practical value to farmers, there are shown a large number of varieties of watermelons, muskmelons, sweet corn, sorghum, millet, pumpkins, squashes, etc. None of these are of large size, but are arranged to show the comparative growth of different varieties grown on the same soil and under exactly the same conditions.

The chemical exhibit is something new to this section. In this there are some 25 varieties of feeding stuffs for farm stock, on a series of shelves and represented in bottles the various chemical constituents of each. The observing visitor will carry away much valuable knowledge from this. The entomological department is represented by sixteen cases of common insects mounted and classified.

THE EXHIBIT UP STAIRS.

The second floor of the Pavilion shows one of the finest displays ever seen in Reno. The hall having been decorated with mottoes, evergreens and flags makes an attractive background for the various displays.

In the center of the hall is a creditable furniture exhibit by E. C. Sessions, consisting of bedroom suites, chairs, extension tables and bookcases, in walnut, mahogany and oak.

Mr. Bonner has sewing machines and organs.

The Wheeler & Wilcox sewing machine manufactory through their agent, L. F. Assalena, display a number of good machines and samples of their work.

In this department, also, is Mrs. L. Morrill of Virginia with an elaborate exhibit of embroidery done by her patent embroiderer.

John Bruener of Sacramento has one of the largest and finest displays of furniture ever brought to Reno. It is located in the west end of the Pavilion, and consists of fine silk parlor suites, walnut, oak and mahogany bedroom suites, bed lounges, silk and carpet pattern rockers, fine reception chairs, extension tables, sideboards and bookcases.

He has also on exhibition one of the latest patent folding beds working by weights, being when closed a dressing case. All who visit the Pavilion should not fail to sign their name and receive a number for the drawing of a fine plush rocker to be given away to the one holding the winning number. The drawing for this takes place on Saturday evening.

At one end of the hall is a case holding all the silverware won at the different State Fairs by the horses of Theo. Winters; also a floral saddle won at St. Louis. Surrounding this are the pictures of his celebrated horses, the Czar, El Rio Key, Mollie McCarty, Dan Jose, Marion and foal and Key, Del Rey.

The Abrahams Bros. have an attractive exhibit from their well known store, showing a fine assortment of gentlemen's furnishing goods, clothing, blankets, etc.

L. F. Crockwell, the well known Virginia photographer, displays some very good works, and has also the apparatus at hand for making flash-light pictures.

THE GAZETTE office has samples of their job work.

Cotun & Thyres exhibit the Hamocelle reclining chairs.

W. E. Hardins exhibits specimens of fine penmanship.

H. F. Pavola, an exhibit of fine hand-made boots and shoes.

In the fancy work department is an unusually good exhibit. Miss Cora Moore of Oakland has numerous examples of embroidery on bolting cloth, Bololu sheeting and plush.

Mrs. K. M. C. Clark of Carson has a large amount of fine work in Kensington, Kousan and Sorrento embroidery. Most of the work was on exhibition at the Sacramento fair. Her display of Kensington stitch, rope silk and arrasine embroideries is artistic. The work is done on satin bed-spreads, scarfs, sofa pillows, etc. Thirty-two pieces of work are exhibited, and there is nothing superior in the Pavilion.

Miss Emma Gibbs has a good collection of various kinds of fancy work.

The porcelain painting of Miss Fannie McLaughlin is well done. Also her flower pieces in oil, many of them being copied from nature.

Among such a great number of exhibitors it is impossible to separately mention each person. The following is a list of those having work at the Pavilion, all of which is good, and some being exceptionally fine. If any names are omitted it is owing to the impossibility of getting a correct list, as entries are being made at even this late day.

Miss Dora Abrahams, Mrs. E. Barber, Miss Boston, Miss Fannie Brown, Miss Hallie Bigelow, Mrs. R. C. Bigelow, Mrs. C. E. Clough, Mrs. John Belz, Mrs. A.
